

Township Values Up 4 Million, Now More Than $35,000,000

Newark Boost Tops Area with $1,800,000

Property values in Washington Township took a record-shattering $4,000,000 jump this year, a report from Assessor Russell Horstman disclosed today.

Horstman's annual accounting shows the Washington Union High School District, which embraces all of the Township except the hilly back country, is assessed at $34,479,040 for tax purposes in 1953-54, compared to $30,536,240 last year.

Outlying areas are assessed at almost $1,500,000 more. They went up too.

Biggest upward swoop was in Newark, where values rose $1,809,000—principally from several new industries.

Centerville registered a $552,000 increase, most of it in new homes. Decoto gained $572,000, Niles $400,000, Irvington $318,000, Alviso District $183,000, Mission San Jose $113,000, Warm Springs $114,000. Only Alvarado slipped—some $114,000.

Utilities accounted for almost a quarter of the assessment hike. This year the State Board of Equalization values Township power plants and water lines at $9,094,450 against $8,206,470 in 1952-53—an increase of almost $900,000.

School districts stood to benefit heavily from the upward revisions, since their local taxes are based on the assessments. However, most principals said increased enrollments will eat up any savings from the extra money available. In many cases, the growth had been roughly estimated and provided for in budgets, which were adopted two weeks ago.

Some district spokesmen guessed they might cut taxes a trifle if the values continue to climb at their present rate. In Centerville, $28,000 extra school bonds can be sold, and $20,000 more in Niles.

Comparison of last year's and this year's assessments:

	1952-53	1953-54
Alvarado	$2,663,980	$2,549,675
Alviso	1,629,600	1,812,040
Centerville	3,669,855	4,221,955
Decoto	4,842,110	5,414,385
Irvington	6,685,320	7,003,865
Mission S. J.	1,001,945	1,114,830
Newark	4,990,235	6,801,550
Niles	3,703,510	4,097,405
Warm Springs	1,349,685	1,463,325

Newark Rezoning Draws Factories' Fire; Planners to Reconsider It

Rezoning of Newark was back in the laps of the County Planning Commission today, following a stormy protest session in Oakland last week before the Board of Supervisors.

Industrialists and chamber of commerce representatives alike opposed portions of the switch from present protective zoning, though most of them agreed some changes ought to be made.

After a further confab Monday between the Supervisors and their appointees on the Planning Commission, it was decided to throw the issue open again, and to change back to the present plan around the Westvaco-Lavino area, and around the Bulldog Pallet Co. on Haley Road.

"I just wonder who's pleased with the map, outside of the Planning Commission and its staff?" cried Chester E. Stanley, Supervisor chairman, after hearing complaints from nearly a dozen persons.

The revamped version of Newark's 1947-model zoning was to have been officially adopted at the session, following public hearings in April, May and June before the commission.

However, the new hearings will consume at least six weeks, Stanley told The Register in an interview later. Two public hearings are necessary, and the commission is not bound to act before 90 days. Dates of the hearings were to be set this week.

More than 20 representatives of one faction or another attended last week's meeting, and there were almost as many versions of what they wanted.

First Frank Steffenson of Oakland, who owns 160 acres between the Lavino brick factory and the Leslie Salt Works, objected that a strip along the Southern Pacific railroad on his property was to be re-zoned for homes, cutting off the rest of his land from the tracks.

Steffenson said he had conferred several months ago with planning staff members, and declared: "I thought we all had the same idea, so I didn't appear to protest."

John Jay Thomas, planning director, interposed that the new scheme "was the product of many different meetings, which Mr. Steffenson probably didn't attend," adding that Steffenson's objection had never been raised officially.

Then Richard Duff, president of the Bulldog Pallet Co., asserted his eight acres were being rezoned for residences, blocking his expansion. The Pallet firm is located on S.P. tracks northwest of Newark.

"I'll be forced out of the area," Duff declared.

Charles Snow, attorney for the Sunset Foundry, near Bulldog, said his client finds himself in much the same position if industrial zoning isn't retained as it is.

R. F. Moran, manager of the big Westvaco Chemical plant, commented scornfully that the revamped plan would zone his spur track for homes.

Finally Arthur Beal, San Leandro promoter, made a separate appeal for his $3,000,000 shopping center on Thornton Avenue, which was turned down by the planning commission after other businessmen argued it would hurt the existing commercial district.

Beal vainly offered to compromise and take "only the northern half" for the center if the supervisors would re-zone it commercial.

Allied in favor of the commission-sponsored plan "with only minor changes," were brothers Arthur and Gordon Cotton, realtors, who drew some backing from Chester Caldecott, attorney for an estate which reportedly owns 1450 acres near the town.

Gordon Cotton urged a speedy settlement with the changes asked by industries.

Also urging speed were C. H. Reeves, S.P. district freight agent; Joseph Pashote, who made the cityhood for Newark by '55? Vote Needed This Fall

Cattlemen Hogtie Joint Flood Zone At Livermore

Still determined to block any joint action with Washington Township on control and conservation of water, Livermore cattlemen Friday night all but took command of a public meeting called to neutralize them.

When the dust had settled in Livermore's County Firehouse, W. Gatzmer Wagoner and his cowmen cohorts had re-aired the arguments they used to pigeonhole Zone 5 last January, and had prevented a fledgling pro-zone citizens' committee from organizing further.

Al Bonne, Livermore laundryman, who called the meeting, prudently refrained from any official vote on the issue. Applause for Wagoner showed Bonne's pro-zone faction was outnumbered.

However, there were strong hints that Livermore, and probably Pleasanton, will call town elections late this year to see if the urban dwellers want Zone 5 formed with Washington Township.

Washington Township needs the zone for control of Alameda Creek floodwaters, and to drain the heart of the Township so it can be developed further. Since Alameda Creek rises in the Livermore-Pleasanton area, controls are needed there too. Benefits to water-hungry Livermore-Pleasanton however would come in the form of water conservation. It was this that Wagoner and his backers attacked, contending that their land is too high to benefit, and should be left out, untaxed.

In vain did County Flood Control Engineer Herbert G. Crowle declare that "indirect" benefits would accrue to the upland ranches when water caused the lowlands to prosper and become populous. Wagoner retorted:

"Benefits? These people drive around in autos, knock over my fences, run into my cows, and spread germs. Why, I had a $750 veterinarian bill last year!"

He went on: "The advent of all these people into a community is a liability rather than an asset. If enough of these Johnny-Come-Latelys come in, they can pass a $50,000,000 bond issue on us. They always vote yes."

Rather than "sign a blank check" for possible "unscrupulous" Supervisors to use for flood curbs and conservation, Wagoner said, his group wants the State Legislature to rewrite the Flood Control & Water Conservation Act. The cattlemen want directors chosen by vote in the zone, rather than for the Supervisors to administer it.

Supervisor Chester E. Stanley, who was present, took issue with Wagoner and pointed out (1) that 20 other California counties are administering such zones "without bankrupting the farmers," and (2) that ranch land is not excluded from school district taxes, though children do not live on the ranches.

Stanley and Crowle also argued that much of the hill land would pay only two cents per acre per year, on the basis of an initial tax of 50 cents per $100 assessed value. Chairman Bonne pointed up the need for water conservation in (Continued on Page 4)

A. M. Alves, Vernon Ellsworth and Dr. T. C. Wilson have been named to a Niles Chamber of Commerce committee to honor the town's volunteer firemen at an annual barbecue, probably on September 10.

Cityhood for Newark By '55? Vote Needed This Fall

If Newark wants to become a city before 1955, it will take an election this December, the president of the local Chamber of Commerce informed his members Tuesday night.

Joseph Pashote added this statement to a report on progress of the town's incorporation, which was made by Charles B. Snow.

Pashote said February 1 is the deadline for incorporation if the "city" is to get tax money to run itself during 1954. This would mean an election before the end of the year, he explained.

"Now we must find out what the people want, and the industrial plants," he concluded. Snow said the committee, headed

FIRE BOUNDARIES, RIVALRIES RAPPED BY CENTERVILLE

Glenmoor residents who live in the Newark Fire District were warned Monday by a Centerville fire commissioner that nearby Centerville no longer will protect them.

At the same time, inter-town rivalries were hit by a Centerville Chamber of Commerce official.

The issue arose when Gene Manning, former Township Chamber secretary-manager, suggested delegates to the next Township Chamber meeting "ought to bring up for discussion" the subject of Hillview Crest entering Hayward's supervisory district.

"We shouldn't sit by and let a neighbor city get its fingers into what is ours," Manning declared. "This is a creeping disease!" "They'll want to annex the steel mill (at Niles) next," added L. S. Williams.

George Oakes defended Hayward, saying "Maybe we'll appreciate some day what they're doing to help with water and sanitation," which Hayward now supplies Hillview Crest.

Then LeRoy Broun, secretary of the Centerville group, declared: "This is just one of the problems that arise from our lousy nationalistic attitude in the Township. One town brings some project up, and the others want to fight."

"Newark wants to incorporate and take in the PG&E plant, and so Irvington wants to incorporate to protect themselves. Unless we start thinking Township-wise, our whole Township is going to be a botched mess—it reminds me of those little states in Europe."

At this point Fire Commissioner Fred Rogers rose to assert:

"We have the same trouble in the fire district—over in Glenmoor, half a house will be in the Centerville District and half in Newark."

"The people over there are on the Centerville 'phone exchange, and all of them call us no matter what district they're in. It's a mile to our firehouse and 2½ miles to Newark. We feel Blacow Road should be the dividing line."

"I'm going to have my men inform them this week that we can't give them fire protection any longer. They'll have to join our district if they want it."

PAPER DRIVE

Residents of Centerville today were advised to hold onto their waste paper—the local Boy Scouts will hold a paper drive there on August 29.

FREEWAY LAND IS BEING PURCHASED

In a letter to The Township Register, State Sen. Arthur H. Breed Jr., representing Alameda County, pledges "continuing support" to completion of the Eastshore Freeway through Washington Township.

However the legislator said he is unable to say when construction will start by the state for the last 14-mile link between Oakland and San Jose.

Sen. Breed said steps have been taken to buy rights-of-way out of a recently-voted $200,000 State fund. He did not say how far these purchases have progressed.

The senator was answering an editorial printed last month in The Township Register asking what progress was being made.

Assemblyman Francis Dunn Jr. also replied to the editorial, stating that he too favors speedy completion of the Freeway, but that the State Highway Commission "is almost autonomous in its decisions as to which highways are to be improved, and how much is to be spent each year." He continued:

"The Alameda County Highway Advisory Committee will recommend to the State Highway Commission on August 20 that funds for the construction of the Eastshore Freeway be included in the 1954-5 budget. I shall use my best efforts to urge the commission to adopt the recommendation." (See Sen. Breed's Letter on Pg. 4)

'SPRINGS FACTORY EXPANDS SCOPE

Announcement that a Warm Springs plant will soon start manufacturing the West's first high-temperature silica refractory bricks was made this week by the Harbison-Walker Company of Pittsburgh, Pa., operator of the factory.

Harbison-Walker Co., world's largest producer of refractories, which are used to line blast furnaces and other super-hot installations, also disclosed it has remodeled and enlarged the Warm Springs plant, purchased last year from the Laclede-Christie Company. Basic refractory bricks already are being made there. Says the release:

"Manufacture of the new product will begin late this month. It will be the type known as Super-Duty Silica refractories. This is the first manufacture of super-duty silica refractories west of Texas. The production will be about 400 tons a month initially, and is expected to reach 750 tons a month by the end of the year.

"The products made at Warm Springs are highly important to the metallurgical and other basic industries of the west. Both basic and silica refractories are necessary in the construction of open-hearth and electric steel furnaces, and of various other types of furnaces operated for the smelting and refining of non-ferrous metals.

"Basic refractories are used also in the linings of rotary cement kilns, and in the regenerators of glass furnaces. Silica refractories are a necessity for the roofs of glass furnaces, and for the construction of chemical recovery (by-product) coke ovens."

WHERE DOES THAT LEAVE OKLAHOMA?

William Thompson, 58, transient, nabbed while stealing tools from the Kraftite plant in Niles, is a new kind of DP, sheriff's deputies decided this week.

Thompson informed them he was a U.S. Marshal, performing his duties. He said he was from Oklahoma. Asked if he was a marshal in Oklahoma, Thompson replied:

"No, no. In the United States." He was given 60 days in jail by Judge E. A. Quaresma.

OPEN MEMBERSHIP, SAYS CENTERVILLE

Centerville delegates to the Township Chamber of Commerce this week were instructed to vote for "wider, more balanced" representation in the overall chamber.

Delegate Harry Weber asked for instructions on how to vote at next Monday's Township Chamber meeting, when the issue of dues-paying members from industry, business and plain citizens will be raised.

Weber said he felt "the town chambers won't contribute more" than their present maximum of $10 a month to the central body. He said this isn't enough to do a first-class job of attracting industry here.

Romeo Brunelli and Eugene Manning spoke for "balanced" representation, "balanced" voting power, with eight directors elected from the eight towns which make up the chamber, and other directors chosen from industry, business and the public.

On motion of LeRoy Broun, the suggestion was endorsed. Centerville also voted to pay its $120 annual dues to the Township group.

Tuesday night, the Newark Chamber of Commerce voted to follow the lead of Niles and refer the issue back to the Township Chamber. The idea is for the central body to determine if industries actually prefer to join the overall organization.

"It's up to the Township Chamber to tell us," commented Newark President Joseph Paschote.

Within the metropolis of San Francisco in 1941 there were 91 farms; in 1950 there were 55.

DECOTO PROTESTS HILLVIEW 'LOSS'

A public meeting has been called for Thursday night in Decoto School by the local Chamber of Commerce to counter the latest effort to pry suburban Hillview Crest away from Decoto and into Hayward.

The move, by Hayward's city council, recently asked that Supervisor George Janssen's Hayward district be extended south to Dry Creek, which runs between Decoto and 600-home Hillview Crest.

This is seen by chamber members as an attempt to split Hillview further away from Decoto, its next-door neighbor. Hillview already gets water and sewage service from Hayward, 2 1/2 miles to the north.

Last week a meeting of Hillview homeowners announced it favored annexation to the larger city.

DECOTO SHOOTING

A week-end argument in Decoto failed John Hernandez, 38, of 430 Fifth Street, on charges of displaying a weapon after sheriff's deputies said Hernandez grazed the head of Arturo Morones, 20, 410 Sixth Street, with a bullet from a deer rifle. Hernandez pleaded innocent and will appear in court September 25.

PLANNERS EXHIBIT AT COUNTY BLDG.

Of interest to Townshippers is a handsome display of their area's predicted growth, entitled "A Township in Transition," now being displayed at the Centerville County Building.

The exhibit, staged by the County Planning Commission, shows existing development, plus maps and charts of expected growth, and the so-called "Master Plan" for the region.

The display recently was shown at the Oakland Courthouse, and was brought here at the request of Supervisor Chester Stanley.

It will be open to the public from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays until August 28.

According to the April 1, 1950 Census of Agriculture, 78,575 California farm homes had telephones.

CARRIER MAIL AT NEWARK STILL OUT

Home mail delivery for Newark still waits on more houses with sidewalks, the Postoffice Department told the town Chamber of Commerce this week.

Replying to a request, made through Senator William Knowland and Representative George Miller, the bureau said a survey made in April disclosed only 1300 people lived in adequately-sidewalked areas of the town. Regulations prescribe a minimum of 2500 before foot-carrier delivery will be furnished.

"We'd better wait another year for a new population survey," suggested Carl Hersey.

HUBCAP THEFTS

Two Monterey youths, Stephen Rios, 19, and Ray Gonzales, 20, were arrested for stealing hubcaps in Centerville last week-end. Both pleaded guilty and will appear again for sentence September 4 before Judge E. A. Quaresma.

Low-Cost Luxury

A three-bedroom, pitched-roof home for $6695 . . .

This is the sales point made by Westward Homes, of Hayward, now building one for a Niles couple at 729 Third Street.

The company has built nearly 300 low-cost homes in Southern Alameda County in the past year, many of them costing $4995.

"The Hayward" is the three-bedroom redwood-and-stucco model now under construction for Mr. and Mrs. William R. Strong. Mrs. Strong has lived in Niles 35 years, while her husband is a billetman at Pacific States Steel 16-inch rolling mill.

The home features thermo-static-controlled heat, an inside laundry, asphalt tile floors, wardrobe closets, copper water pipes, and mahogany slab doors.

Cold Shoulder

The Newark Chamber of Commerce this week turned thumbs-down on a Centerville Lions Club proposal for a meeting September 5 to organize a youth center for the Township.

Newarkers commented the proposal is a "duplication" of the Newark Recreation District, as far as that town is concerned.

Newark Rezoning

and Ed Druggie of the Alameda County New Industries Committee. Both charged zoning "confusion" already has driven one large chemical plant away from Newark, which they termed "the ideal industrial city."

But a quick decision appeared out of the question, as Stanley ruled the issue would have to go back to the Planning Commission "for action within 90 days."

Stanley commented that the last revision will "leave the south end of Newark much as it is, with only the north end changed."

One major change concerns land between Baine and Central Avenues, formerly zoned for light industry, which will now be primarily residential—with the exception of the part nearest the proposed Freeway.

Commenting on the planning commission map, Gordon Cotton asserted:

"I believe there were unintentional errors—somebody's pencil must have slipped." As chairman of the Chamber of Commerce planning and zoning committee, he asked that the changes be made to satisfy the aggrieved industries.

Reeves, the SP representative, said his company has "spent a half million to attract industries to Newark," and warned "one of the reasons that one industry moved to Sunnyvale instead was because it didn't want to get mixed up in zoning troubles here."

Druggie had some harsh words for the present commercial district, which he called "the hub of the sore thumb." He predicted "business there will deteriorate to nothing, because customers will drive away to modern shopping centers."

This was the line taken by Beal. However no changes were suggested in the 25-acre piece optioned by Beal. The commission had recommended it be zoned for two-family residences.

Flood Curb Confab

Livermore by declaring "people already are having to haul water for their cattle."

Crowle pointed out that the water problem was a threefold one: (1) floods, which have caused $2,000,000 damage in past years, (2) runoff water, which bars subdivisions and factories from much of Washington Township, and (3) falling water tables in both the Township and in Livermore-Pleasanton.

He said a State survey started in 1949 now shows "withdrawals from the underground water tables greatly exceed replenishment." Then he warned:

"The majority of Washington Township favors an overall zone with you, but it won't wait indefinitely. Their assessed valuation is twice yours, and if they go it alone, it would eliminate you from participating."

Crowle advised that, by law, the cities of Livermore and Pleasanton must concur—either by vote of their councilmen, or in a public election. He advised the latter step, and told Bonne "this is the next step for your committee." Then he added:

"For those who oppose, I advise delay, because in a few months Washington Township will force the issue and never come with you, which could well mean you'll never get your dams either."

Crowle predicted that future development of the Livermore Valley depends on getting Central Valley water over the hills from Byron, and that this can only be done by formation of a water conservation zone.

To Wagoner's reply that it is "un-American" to exclude the ranchers from the town vote on forming the zone, Crowle countered that a majority of property owners still can block any tax, and that a bond issue requires a two-thirds vote.

The meeting broke up without action after Bonne observed that "the opponents seem more in evidence than the proponents."

TEXT OF SENATOR'S REPLY ON FREEWAY

Editor, Sir:

As to your first question as to when the state intends to complete the East Shore Freeway, you will be interested in knowing that at the last session of the Legislature, we by a special act, provided for an additional twenty million dollars for the acquisition of rights-of-way. This is in addition to the original ten million dollars that has been appropriated for advance planning. Therefore, the first steps have been taken, now to provide finances for advance planning and also for the second step for the acquisition of rights-of-way. The district of the Division of Highways that covers this area has already designated the route for the 14-mile stretch between Mt. Eden and Warm Springs, and furthermore, is proceeding on the more detailed plans as soon as funds are available.

The plans include further studies of the treatment of grade crossings, the amount of land that will be necessary for grade separations, etc. There is also money that has been appropriated for obtaining title reports on parcels that present a case of urgency or where it appears necessary to immediately acquire property along the adopted route.

There is some money available for the purchase of land in order to prevent its improvement by private companies erected on the designated route.

There has been some money allocated for the route from the Santa Clara County line to the junction at Warm Springs. In a small portion of the route in the vicinity of Beard Road, the state has already obtained a freeway agreement.

As to my position regarding this matter, I have consistently, ever since there has been a discussion of the East Shore Freeway, urged upon the Highway Commission and their engineers, the completion of the East Shore Freeway all the way to San Jose.

You ask when does construction start. I cannot answer that because the advance planning and the purchase of rights-of-way must obviously come first and while I am just as enthusiastic and insistent as you are that this last unit of the East Shore Freeway be completed, I do recognize that the preliminary work that is absolutely necessary before construction can start takes time. I realize also that this division of the Division of Highways has its hands full preparing plans and specifications for projects where the advance planning and rights-of-way have already been processed. The Division of Highways has been endeavoring to enlarge their staff so that they might accelerate their program in proportion to the new funds that are becoming available, but the personnel that is needed just is not available in the quantity that is necessary.

Sincerely,

Arthur H. Breed, Jr.
Senator for Alameda County

THE RAINBOWS THAT COME IN CANS

Remember the last time you took a can of paint and stirred it up with a little imagination and some brushwork?

We'll bet it gave you a different slant on life, whether it brightened a part of your house or gave a child's toy a colorful look.

To help make your life brighter—and easier—today's paints come in every tint and hue of the rainbow. Best of all, the modern miracle paints come to you ready to use.

America's paint industry and the American Can Company virtually grew up together.

The paint companies worked out formulas for ready-mixed paints that do just about any special job you have in mind. Meanwhile, Canco developed practical leak-proof containers, with their now familiar "double-clinch" covers, to keep paint fresh during shipping and storage, until you are ready to use it.

New plants and whole new industries were able to get started when Canco developed the right container for ready-mixed paints. This meant new and better jobs, and a higher level of prosperity for us all.

Yes, by making better cans—not only for paints but for just about everything you can think of—Canco has been able to help all Americans eat better, live better and work better.

We can be proud of such teamwork between our people and our business enterprises. That's what makes America such a satisfying country to live and work in. And it promises a future—"bright as paint"—for us all.

RAP MILPITAS 'BLOCK'
Traffic bottlenecks near Milpitas were criticized Tuesday by Dr. T. C. Wilson before the Niles Chamber of Commerce. At his urging, the Chamber agreed to petition the State Highway Patrol to install traffic controls at Milpitas until the Freeway is finished past there next spring, to remedy the sum-per-to-bumper traffic on Sunday nights. At its narrowest, the Golden Gate is less than a mile wide.

STATE SURVEY FOR NILES SPEED CURB

A survey to determine if 35- and 45-miles-per-hour speed limits through Niles are justified is being conducted by the State Division of Highways.

This word came Tuesday to the local Chamber of Commerce from B. W. Booker, district engineer. Booker said the reduced limits will be imposed if the surveys show enough population to warrant them.

The reduced speeds on Highway 9 were asked several weeks ago

Meet a man with 15 mouths to feed

Frank S. Corda farms 240 acres in California's Salinas Valley. We know Mr. Corda well because Standard Oil Company of California fuels the power that tills his land. By replacing muscles with machines, as Mr. Corda has done, the average U. S. farmer produces enough food for 15 people. One hundred years ago a good farmer produced enough to feed only five people. Mechanized farming, powered by oil, has made the difference.

Insect "bomber" demonstrates one of the ways petroleum helps make farms more productive and profitable. Airborne insecticides made by Standard's subsidiary, California Spray-Chemical Corporation, are so effective that they save western farmers millions of dollars a year in crop losses. Other petroleum products save time and labor . . . for example, a tractor can work 10 acres in the time a team of horses takes to plow two. We also had a hand in that, because Standard developed the first compounded lubricating oil that made high-speed diesels for tractors practical. Fuels and lubricants for farm machines, yield-boosting weed killers, roof coatings for barns, stock dips, detergents to keep milk equipment spotless, bottled gas for refrigeration, cooking and heating—they're all on the long list of items supplied to western farms by Standard. And you, too, benefit from each new way Standard scientists increase the yield of farms . . . because you may be one of the 15 people Mr. Corda feeds. Questions or comments about our Company are always welcome. Write: Standard Oil Company of California, P. O. Box 3495-C, San Francisco, California.

WITH THEM, OR WITHOUT!

Like Alameda Creek, certain factors which vitally affect our Township have to be traced carefully back to their source before we can come to grips with them. Therefore we took especial care to be present last Friday at a little-noted meeting held in Livermore. It was a meeting to promote backing for formation of Flood Zone 5. In our opinion it was a meeting of immense importance to this Township, and we have reported it fully in our news columns today.

More than anything else, lack of proper flood-control and drainage is slowing the development of Washington Township. Without flood curbs, we go home in boats in wet years. Without drainage, homes and factories can't be built as they otherwise would, because the extra runoff they cause floods the lands below.

Around Irvington, and around Alvarado, the county has convinced the voters that public action is necessary, and these areas will vote October 14 on sale of bonds to whip both problems, once and for all.

But around Niles, Centerville and Newark the problems remain. That is because these towns lie in the flood-plain of Alameda Creek, which rises in Livermore and Pleasanton. The engineers tell us that it would be more efficient and less expensive if Livermore and Pleasanton join us to stop the floods by building dams. Over there they need water during dry spells, and these dams would provide the answer to that, meantime keeping our mutual creek within its banks.

However in Livermore we see a tightly-knit band of cattlemen again girding to stop the whole process, on the grounds that their lands lie above the dams and would not benefit from the project. They want out, and they refuse to concede that lowland prosperity will help them. But if they get out, where will the line be drawn? How far down the valley? It is incidentally interesting to note that these same cattlemen benefit directly from lengthy county roads to their baronies, and from other public items which the lowlanders help pay for.

Anyhow these same cattlemen effectively sabotaged the meeting, and it looks like the project will collapse unless the towns of Livermore and Pleasanton generate enough steam to put it over themselves.

What we're getting at is this—it would be desirable to have a district, or zone, with Livermore and Pleasanton. But if it is not to be, Washington Township still is able to form one itself. We will have nearly $40,000,000 assessed valuation before the bonds can be sold, more than enough to support the projects.

Certainly we should give our neighbors every chance to join us in this most vital of programs. They stand to benefit as much, if not more, than we Townshippers.

But if they won't come—and come this year—then this side of the hill will have to look out for itself, and form Zone 5 alone. Further delay will serve no purpose. It might well dim the brilliance of our future.

... THAT HE WHO RUNS MAY READ

Before the Planning Commission last week, a number of factory owners and landholders from Newark arose to protest rezoning there. Almost to a man, they complained they had not been properly informed of the proposed changes, and that they had to appear unprepared.

Of course there had been three public hearings and any number of Chamber of Commerce sessions, plus newspaper articles about the plan. But maybe factory-owners skim notices of these things faster than the rest of us, in their haste to read the market reports, or Steve Canyon. Truly, it is almost impossible to describe in print the intricacies of zoning.

In fairness to everyone, we suggest that when future zoning changes are contemplated, the county have detailed maps drawn and published in a newspaper in the community affected. This now is done AFTER the zoning is approved, but that's too late for would-be protesters. We think it should come beforehand, and in map form. After all, as Marilyn Monroe knows, a picture is worth a thousand.

THE NEW LOOK IN RUSSIA

Like everybody else, we've been trying to dope out what Russia's new "soft" approach, plus the downfall of Police Boss Beria mean, taken together. We think now that may be exactly the key: that they do belong very much together.

Unlike in the days of Stalin, there has been a de-emphasis on individuals in this latest manifestation in Russia. Neither Malenkov nor Molotov nor Bulganin are getting the old dictator's build-up. It may be that the Kremlin hierarchy is determined never to let any one man attain the terrifying personal power that Stalin did. Of all Stalin's heirs, surely Beria, chief of the secret police army, was in the best spot to seize such power. That may be why he was liquidated.

If that is so, perhaps Russia's sudden about-face in world politics is evidence that her new masters don't want to conquer the world by hot-and-cold war, as Stalin did. Instead, they have shown some inclination to return to the old doctrine of Marx and Lenin, which teaches conversion by guile and propaganda. It's anybody's guess, but it could be, could be.

SUZY SEZ...

Say, Niles Chamber of Commerce members, why don't you pack picnic lunches, and some Saturday repaint the 'Niles' sign on the hill above town? It needs to be either renewed or removed, as in its present state it is no credit to the community.

Now that the apricot season is over, those of us in Orchard Park can breathe a sigh of relief. We have had 'cot pie, cobbler, upside-down cake, preserves and sauce. If I served one more apricot, the family would toss it in my face!

A well-known television star, who occasionally spends time in Mission San Jose, displayed unexpected shyness awhile ago when he ran from a curious mob of children bent on asking about appearing on his show. The picture tube has ended forever the anonymity of a radio voice, and no television star can go unrecognized for long even if he hopes for quiet and seclusion in a small town like Mission.

For a new and delicious taste, add one-half cup of milk and one teaspoon of sugar to the water when you boil corn on the cob. Remember too, corn tastes best when it is just barely done, so cook it just before serving, rather than letting it stand while other things are prepared.

Furniture designers have modernized everything, including the roll-top desk. The editor of The Register is the owner of one of the few remaining desks, and while he doesn't use it to its full advantage, there is nothing quite like being able to close the lid on the clutter at the end of a day's work. I grew up with one that was used by every one, and held bills, a stamp collection, and half of a pair of gloves. Modern desks seldom have room for even the bills, let alone the other "valuable" things. I haven't checked, but I suspect our editor keeps a reserve supply of vitamins in his, otherwise he

'MR. MYSTERY FOLLOWED DAD, GRANDPA

Ken Foster was last week's man of mystery. This week's is an equally civic-minded individual—see if you can guess. The correct answer is hidden on an inside page.

He was born in Kelseyville in 1912, destined to follow his father and his grandfather in the profession they practiced in Wood-couldn't do as many things as he does!

If you wonder why a certain Decoto gas station attendant has lost faith in women drivers, let me tell you the reason. Last week a woman drove into his station and asked for directions to a certain street in Decoto. Before he could finish his directions, she drove off in a cloud of angry dust. All my friends had said was, "Well, you go to H Street . . .!"

Women are supposed to be the weaker sex, but what man is strong enough to cope with a housewife's daily and hourly problems, from skinned knees to burned pot roast? A half-day at home with the kids usually results in father suddenly remembering an urgent appointment at the golf course. There are compensations though, as when the youngest looks up at me and says, "I'm gonna marry you, you are so nice to fix me cookies." Then I'm glad I am a member of the strong weaker sex!

The oldest recipe in my collection is for a three-thousand year old Carthaginian Pudding. It consists of cooked rice, cottage cheese, honey, an egg, and coriander for seasoning. My family says they are glad they don't live in ancient Carthage, as they prefer my raisin rice pudding made of vanilla pudding mix and precooked rice. With comments like that, is it any wonder I don't mind slaving over a hot stove in the summer heat?

What do you think of the "new look" of Main Street in Centerville, with the gift shop moved to a more convenient location, and the bright yellow front of the shoe-repair store across the street?

So long . . .
Off the Philippines, a sounding of 34,440 feet was obtained.

land, Lake County and Berkeley. When he was nine, he came to Washington Township with his family, attended Washington Hi, where he played end on the football team and piccolo in the band.

At San Jose State, he played freshman football. Then he went to professional school in San Francisco, worked for a couple of years, attended pre-medical school at UC—until a girl changed his mind.

Then it was sales work in Northern California towns until 1943—when he entered the Air Force. No medals for him: he was an aerial gunnery instructor, mostly in Texas.

His brother was in the Air Force too, and they managed to miss each other in camps all around the U.S. until our mystery man was discharged in 1946.

After work in Berkeley and Fairfax, he returned to the Township for good in 1950, joined his father in business.

He has been commander of the Township Legion Post, president of his town Chamber of Commerce, district commissioner of Boy Scouts, a director of his county professional association.

Hobbies? Tennis, home movies—and hard work of the civic and business varieties.
